Jambo Sponsors and thank you for your continued support of your sponsored girl(s). Your school fee donation has arrived here safely.

I just returned from Kenya working on building the new high school. While I was there I had the fortunate opportunity to meet with all of the college students at their monthly meeting - 27 GIRLS. Most of these girls are the first in their family to complete elementary school. Many of our girls have never been to a nice restaurant - and they did not know how to use a fork and knife at the same time!! After my fork, knife, napkin and manners lesson, we all headed to the Fairview Hotel for lunch. It was a great experience for them and for me.

September 2011 - Debby and the college students at the Fairview Hotel.

Siodi (left) is from Amboseli National Park Region and studying at Egerton University in Kenya with a major in math and sociology. She will graduate in 2014. Sarah just started college in September 2011 at M.t Kenya University and is studying clinical and community nutrition.

Jane Atieno (left) will graduate from Nairobi Institute of Business Studies in Business Management in 2014. Faithy Nyambura started college in July 2011 and is studying Tour Guiding and Administration.

We are so proud of our college students and graduates. Our first graduates are teachers, lab technicians and the BEADS Program Manager in Kenya.

Our college students are studying veterinary science, forestry, accounting (CPA), human resource management, teaching, and medicine!! Our medical student plans to become a gynecologist. And another 300 sponsored girls are following in their footsteps.

Thank you for your support to educate these girls to become leaders for their families, communities and hopefully the nation.
